Dear Hiring Team,

I am excited to apply for the (Senior) Internal Auditor – Data Analytics Express (f/m/x) role at DHL Group in Bonn. With a Master's in Data Analytics and Decision Science from RWTH Aachen and hands-on experience in data-driven risk analysis at Mercedes-Benz Mobility, I am confident in my ability to contribute to your audit function's mission of safeguarding governance, optimizing business processes, and delivering transparent audit insights across a global, fast-paced organization.

At Mercedes-Benz Mobility, I worked within the Risk Reporting and Analytics division, where I supported audits and strategic reviews through data interpretation, KPI monitoring, and A/B testing frameworks. These experiences have given me a deep appreciation for how analytics underpins effective internal control systems and informed decision-making.

I am proficient in SQL and Python, and I've worked on data integration and automation solutions to reduce manual data handling and improve audit readiness. My skill set also includes Power BI, Excel, and exposure to modern analytics environments. I am currently expanding my familiarity with tools such as Snowflake and I am enthusiastic about contributing to the audit team's growth in areas like process mining, KPI design, and even LLM-based automation, an area I'm actively exploring.

What draws me most to DHL Group is the opportunity to be part of a diverse, globally recognized team that blends technical excellence with audit strategy. I value environments that foster transparency, collaboration, and continuous development, and I'm excited about the chance to contribute to Express Audit's digital transformation journey. I am also fully flexible with international travel and eager to engage directly with global audit stakeholders. I am open to relocating to Bonn or any other location to join the team.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of bringing my analytical mindset, cross-functional collaboration experience, and high-integrity work ethic to DHL Group.

Warm regards,

Nallaperumal Krishnan
